

Safe Delivery of Newborns Law Trainer List

Bethany Christian Services and Spaulding for Children with the support of the Department of Human Services (formerly Family Independence Agency) and Michigan Federation for Children & Families developed a training program for adoption agency staff in 2001. Three regional Train the Trainer sessions were held to educate professionals who were willing to become trainers about the requirements of the Safe Delivery of Newborns law, which was effective January 1, 2001. The purpose of the training was to create a pool of trained professionals who would be available to train emergency service providers (hospitals, police and fire department personnel) and other professionals throughout the state.

The following individuals participated in the 2001 Train the Trainers session and are willing to provide regionally based trainings for emergency service providers and professionals as needed.
